In honor of his birthday, October 15th is celebrated as ‘World Students Day’ and in Maharashtra it is also celebrated as ‘Reading Day’. On the occasion of the same, the student council of Rizvi College of Education organized best book elections on 16th October on Zoom app.

The candidates who participated were as follows Elita Dias, Neysa Dsouza, Richa Poddar, Sabia Shaikh, Saurabh Jagzap and Tasbeeha Shaikh. First, we had Elita Dias who introduced her book which was the Power of Positive thinking by Norman Vincent. She gave a brief information about her book and urged us to read it too. Next, we had Neysa Dsouza who recommended us to read the book 'When Fraser met Billy' . It is about how the love of a cat transformed a little boy's life. The book is really heartwarming. I bet no cat lover will be surprised by the story Neysa added and urged us to cast the vote for her book. In the same way we had Sabia, Richa, Saurabh and Tasbeeha who presented interesting books to us and made us eager to read it by giving a brief information about it. After the book campaign, we casted our valuable votes for the best books and the winner was announced. The results came out and it was Ms Elita Dias who won the elections.

A vote of thanks was delivered by our principal Mrs. Nahida Mandviwala who also suggested that we read good books because it improves our focus, memory, empathy and communication skills. The program ended on a positive note.

- 1 Elita Dias

- 3 Richa Podar
- 4 Sabia Shaikh
- 5 Saurabh Jagzap
- 6 Tasbeeha Shaikh

The event was a reminder of how important it is to read books irrespective of one's age and stage in life.

Reflections:

The event brought in good memories of reading story books in school and then a little bit in college. Today we have a world which is dominated by digital media. No more we resort to a hard copy of a book and sit by the cool breeze to cherish a book. The imaginations associated with reading from a book are far different than what a video or a digital book can give.

Some of the learning lessons from this event were:

- Patience to sit back and read a book
- Ability to comprehend a book and talk about it in a simple worded manner.
- Skill to inculcate interest in reading among peers
- Marketing and Promotion of knowledge with an economic (selling) perspective
- The event helped improve awareness of significant books in the market
- The event brought unity in diversity and levelled individual differences in awareness of allied reading.
- Awareness and understanding of the importance of reading a hard copy of a book and its value in our life.
- Instills patience, generosity, kindness, endurance, quest for knowledge, seeking and thirst for enlightenment through books, respect for literary works, respect for writers, motivation for a career in writing and publishing etc.
