ABOUT RCOED

RCOED started in 2003 under the aegis of Rizvi Education Society. In a span of fifteen successful years, it has made a remarkable progress in the educational fraternity. It has emerged as a premier institute creating teachers equipped with the latest trends and technologies in education. It provides dynamic training programs that empower teachers to meet the challenges in the ever changing global scenario. The credit for the success of this institute rests with its President – Dr. A. H. Rizvi, whose vision and endeavor to make a difference in the society led to the establishment and growth of Rizvi College of Education.

CONFERENCE THEME

Ethnography refers to the scientific description of people along with their customs, habits and mutual differences. Ethnography for Education aims at merging the differences in the Indian Education System through re-establishing the paradigms of Education. These differences may have ascended due to culture, customs, habits, environment, attitude and sometimes even the aptitude of student teachers. This National Conference is for exploring the philosophies that have created this ethnographic drift and to propose solutions to reconnect the gaps in order to make Indian Education system holistic in true spirit and essence.

Reconnecting the Neurons

As teachers, coaches and parents everywhere like to say: 'Practice makes Perfect', doing something over and over again doesn't just make it easier, it actually changes the brain. Neurons grow, they form connections with new neurons. Similarly, the Indian Education system has to rewire itself, change over the course of time and grow. For the Education system to undergo this rewiring, the teacher community needs to actively look at certain dimensions of teaching/learning, assessments, innovations and so on to reconnect, we need to change the lens through which we view our educational philosophies.

Ethnography for Education: Reconnecting the Neurons of Indian Education System (EERN) is a Conference where we are highlighting certain areas of Education system where a reconnection is needed.
