“Don’t read success stories, you will get only message...
Read failure stories, you will get some ideas to get success...”
A. P. J. Abdul Kalam

Dr. Kalam inspired people and young minds across the globe. With his knowledge, initiatives, and achievements, he has left an everlasting impact not only in India but also overseas. The world has acknowledged his contribution as his name continues to receive commemoration in the most respectful forms. He was always found of gaining knowledge and sharing it with others gave him immense joy.

He was one of the most loved and respected personalities in India and continues to be. To give his love for education and knowledge more respect, his birthday is celebrated as 'World Students Day' and in Maharashtra, it is also celebrated as 'Reading Day'.

The Student Council Batch 2020-2022 along with their mentors, organized 'Best Book Elections' to encourage the habit of reading among their batch mates. 6 students volunteered to be candidates for the elections. They had to be a part of a campaign where they would promote their favourite book and encourage the audience to read the book. But before starting with the campaign, Tehreem spoke about A. P. J. Abdul Kalam Sir and why his birthday has so much significance to teachers and students.

All the candidates then campaigned for their books. It was quite interesting to see how these candidates had used their creativity to promote the book. The candidate that won was Mrs. Elita Dias.
